Initial Situation

- Decommissioned industrial site of former textile production
- Large hall structure without a clear future use
- Need for cultural spaces & event infrastructure in the region
- Desire for a long-term, publicly accessible cultural venue

Objectives

- Creation of a central cultural hub
- Promotion of art, culture & social exchange
- Provision of spaces for events & productions
- Long-term revitalisation of a former industrial site

Key Actors

- Main Operator: Spielboden association (programme & artistic direction)
- Operation: Spielboden Kulturveranstaltungs GmbH (organisation & implementation)
- Support: public sector (city, region, federal level) & sponsors

Reuse Strategy

Strategy: conversion of an industrial hall into a diverse cultural centre - complemented by bar, cinema & outdoor areas

Spatial programme:

- Concerts, theatre, film, literature
- Festivals & events
- Rehearsal & production spaces

Character: cultural, multifunctional, publicly accessible

Operational Concept

- Operated by a non-profit association + a cultural events GmbH
- Combination of professional management & curated formats
- Financing through funding, revenues & sponsorship

Key Features of the Project

- Long-term reuse of a large-scale industrial building
- Broad cultural programme from regional to international
- Combination of events, productions & meeting space
- Established cultural venue with supra-regional relevance

Transferability

What makes this example particularly instructive?

- Shows the potential of reusing large industrial buildings
- Demonstrates the long-term establishment of cultural uses
- Highlights the combination of association & professional operation

Who is this model suitable for?

- Cities & municipalities with larger industrial vacancies
- Initiatives with long-term perspective & institutional structure
- Projects focusing on culture & public engagement
